WELCOME TO THE EIGHTH ANNUAL BURLINGTON WINE & FOOD FESTIVAL!

It was eight years ago that an idea was born over a glass of wine (or several) to create a new event for food and wine lovers in Burlington. It seemed a void had been created by the departure of such well-loved events as the Green Mountain Chew Chew and the Flynn Fine Wine Festival, and with the booming local culinary scene and ever-growing wine world, the timing seemed just right.

Over these years, we've been thrilled to see the event grow from a one-day celebration to a week-long (plus) series of dinners, tastings and festivities of all kinds.

We thank all of our fantastic sponsors, exhibitors, staff and volunteers for being a part of this effort. And as you are enjoying the day, we ask that you to do so in a safe, responsible manner. Complimentary water is available throughout the grounds, and taxis are nearby to ensure your safe passage home. Please locate one of our staff should you need assistance of any kind.

Cheers!

Mike and Tracy Stolese
Festival Directors

OUR BENEFICIARY: CHITTENDEN EMERGENCY FOOD SHELF

This year, the Burlington Wine & Food Festival is pleased to partner with the Chittenden Emergency Food Shelf as our community beneficiary. A number of initiatives during the festival, including today's silent auction, will directly benefit the Food Shelf.

The Chittenden Emergency Food Shelf is the largest direct-service emergency food provider in Vermont, serving over 12,000 people each year. Their many programs include grocery distribution, a hot meal program, homebound grocery delivery and the Community Kitchen Academy, a culinary job training program helping people who are under- or unemployed gain stable employment in the hospitality industry.

In addition, their Good Food Truck brings nutritious meals to underserved communities throughout Chittenden County. They're here on site today and eager to show you their talents!

We hope you'll join us in supporting these vital efforts put forth by this invaluable community organization.
